

63 : 1 IN FĪNEM PSALMUS DĀVĪD:

Unto the end, a psalm for David.

63 : 2 Exaudī Deus ōrātiōnem meam cum dēprecor; ā timōre inimīcī ēripe animam meam.

Hear O God, my prayer, when I make supplication to thee; deliver my soul from the fear of the enemy.

63 : 3 Prōtēxistī mē ā conventū malignantium, ā multitudīne operantium inīquitātem.

Thou hast protected me from the assembly of the malignant; from the multitude of the workers of iniquity.

63 : 4 Quia exacuērunt ut gladium linguās suās; intendērunt arcum
rem amāram,

For they have whetted their tongues like a sword; they have bent their bow a bitter thing, 63 : 5 ut sagittent in occultīs immaculātum.

to shoot in secret the undefiled.

63 : 6 Subitō sagittābunt eum, et nōn timēbunt; firmāvērunt sibī sermōnem nēquam. Nārrāvērunt ut absconderent laqueōs; dīxērunt: Quis vidēbit eōs?

They will shoot at him on a sudden, and will not fear; they are resolute in wickedness. They have talked of hiding snares; they have said: Who shall see them?

63 : 7 Scrūtātī sunt inīquitātēs; dēfēcērunt scrūtantēs scrūtiniō.
Accēdet homō ad cor altum,

They have searched after iniquities; they have failed in their search. Man shall come to a deep heart,

63 : 8 et exaltābitur Deus. Sagittae parvulōrum factae sunt plāgae eōrum,

and God shall be exalted. The arrows of children are their wounds, 63 : 9 et infirmātae sunt contrā eōs linguae eōrum. Conturbātī sunt omnēs quī vidēbant eōs, and their tongues against them are made weak. All that saw them were troubled,

63 : 10 et timuit omnis homō. Et adnūntiāvērunt opera Deī, et facta ejus intellēxērunt.

and every man was afraid. And they declared the works of God, and understood his doings.

63 : 11 Laetābitur jūstus in Dominō, et spērābit in eō, et laudābuntur omnēs rēctī corde.

The just shall rejoice in the Lord, and shall hope in him, and all the upright in heart shall be praised.
